We don't do surgery for nonmalignant lesions unless other medical necessity cause by mass.

Initially I did not see the very bottom of your email so I missed your question. No it was not intratesticular but I could not distinguish the bottom of the cyst.

I have emailed you numerous times. A pea sized lesion that is not intratesticular is not considered cancerous nor will it be approved for consult or surgery unless medical necessity is met. I am assuming you want me to ATP this rather than you cancelling it.
